FEBRUARY newsletter

2024

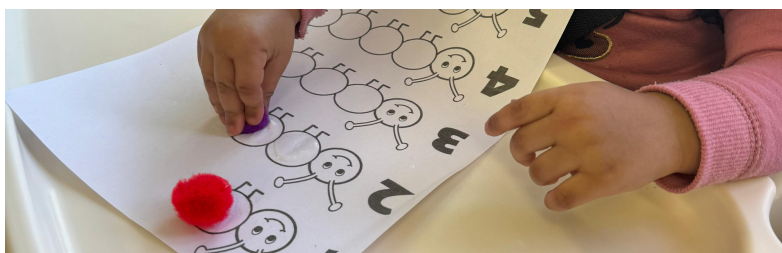

Hello Watch Me Grow families!

We want to share with you some of the highlights and exciting activities that our little ones have experienced in the month of February.

WHAT DID THEY LEARN THIS MONTH?

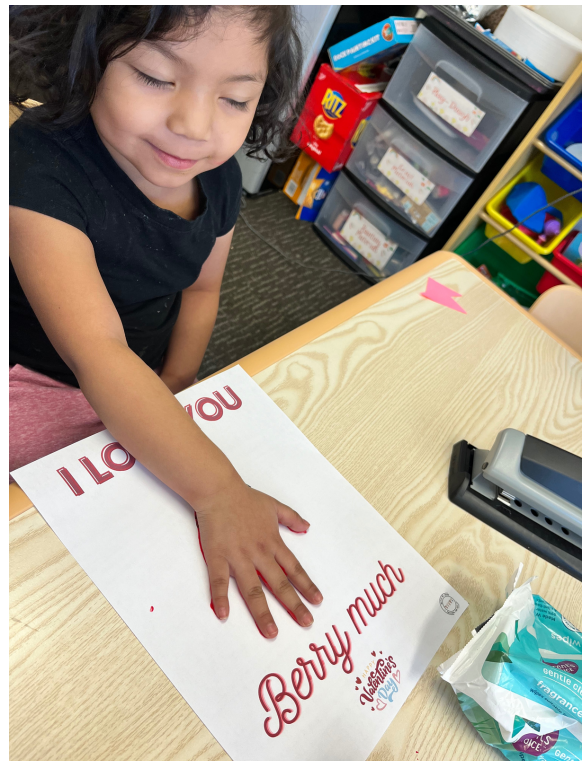

The children at Watch Me Grow have been busy exploring the world around them and learning new skills each and every day. From learning to count in both English and Spanish, to taking part in a few exciting experiments in our Preschool room, each child's progress has been remarkable.

Valentine's Day Celebration

Love was in the air at Watch Me Grow as we celebrated Valentine's Day in all our rooms. From decorated cards to themed activities, our children shared love and friendship in a special way. Some of our children created Valentine's Day arts and crafts with their hand or footprints, while others decorated heart shaped picture frames.

Each and every one of the children had an amazing time exploring creativity on this special day!!

Science Abounds!!

At the beginning of the month our preschoolers got to create their very own volcano. The little ones were extremely excited to help with this experiment and to see all the action up close.

Later in the month they got to pretend they were geologist (goggles and all), while digging for gems and exploring the world of science.

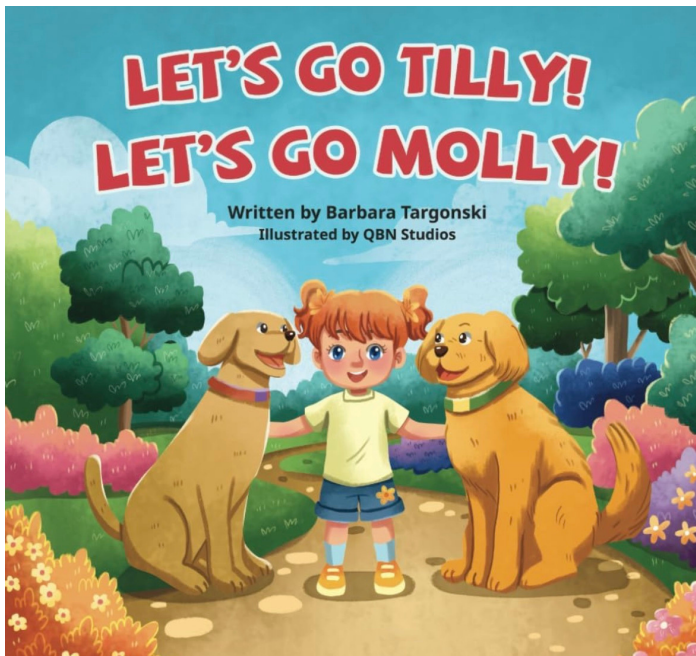

Textures and Colors

The babies in Stamford explored different textures by walking barefoot on paper with paint; making all kinds of colorful footprints along the way. Throughout the month they enjoyed a number of different arts and crafts activities, music and movement time, and the older children continued to explore, colors and shapes, along with early letter and number recognition skills.

An Author Comes to Visit

We were very fortunate to have a local children's author come visit us over the course of the last month.

Barbara Targonski shared her book "Let's go Tilly, Let's go Molly" with all the children at Watch Me Grow and they were all enthralled as they gathered around to hear her read this amazing little book.

After the reading, Miss T. took the time to sign copies of the book, so that each child can continue to explore this book in the weeks and months to come.

Exploring the World of Numbers: Learning Numbers in English and Spanish

Our little learners have continued to enthusiastically explore the world of numbers in both English and Spanish! Through engaging activities and interactive games, they have been mastering numerical concepts while having fun.

The joy of discovery and accomplishment shines bright as they confidently recite numbers in two languages, laying a strong foundation for their future mathematical adventures.

From counting colorful objects to identifying numbers in their environment, each child has been actively participating in their numerical journey.

It has most definitely been an amazing month
here at Watch Me Grow!!

UPCOMING EVENTS

Get ready for two exciting events coming up! On May 11, just before Mother's Day, we plan to have a special moms' gathering! Additionally, we are organizing an event for dads on June 15. We look forward to seeing you all there!
